

Exhibit J

1 side doesn't want us to have that information.

2 THE COURT: And I -- and, you know, gosh, folks, I
3 wish I had some magic words of wisdom. I, I understand when 4 the FCR and the ACC say that, you know, assertions of fraud are 5 inflammatory and that that causes claimants to be defensive. I 6 also understand, frankly, the debtor's desire to -- well, and 7 it, it is the Court's desire to get to the truth of the matter, 8 whatever that truth may be, through discovery. That, that is 9 this Court's desire.

10 And so any efforts/attempts to, you know, to block 11 that or to keep this case from proceeding forward along the 12 lines of the CMO that we, that I, you know, amended earlier 13 today, the Court finds that to be very frustrating and it is 14 the Court's desire to get to the truth of the matter at the end
15 of the day and, and, you know, we will do that in the context
16 of an estimation proceeding. I can't force anybody's hands on 17 the issues about which we are having conversation.

18 But it is -- it is -- it is frustrating to me -- it is 19 concerning to me and, in part, it is frustrating to me because 20 what I hear the ACC and the FCR saying over and over again -- 21 and I believe it -- is that the claimants are the ones who 22 suffer the most harm by virtue of our being here, the longer
23 we're here, in theory, you know, the more harm they suffer,
24 but, but what I keep hearing in the context of these discovery
25 conversations is delay and harm. And I, I don't know how to

1 reconcile all of that. I wish I had sort of the, the, the 2 magic answer, but I don't. And, and, you know, it does strike
3 me in listening to all of this that one of the keys is going to 4 have to be to get the issue back in front of Judge Connolly as 5 fast as possible and to get him to decide that issue. I've 6 staked myself out.

7 I'm, I'm not going to rule on it with the suggestion
8 that, you know, I think it's appropriate for him. I'm not 9 going to try to tell Judge Connolly how to, you know, what, 10 what kind of subpoena is appropriate and consistent with his 11 order. He can do that and he can make that decision.

12 But this, these conversations are very frustrating to 13 the Court because I, I want to get this along. I want to get 14 to estimation and I understand it, it's daunting. I can't 15 really understand 'cause I'm not in the midst of the process
16 the way you all are.

17 But those are my sort of comments and observations,
18 for, for what they're worth.

19 Anything further?

20 The, the only other thing I did hear you say, 21 Mr. Gordon, was with respect to sort of a mini 502(d) order and 22 I don't know at the end of all of this conversation if that's 23 something that really still is on the table. It seems to me if 24 we're talking about a 50, a bigger 502(d) order, that that is 25 something that would be appropriate --
